Divya was a great lecturer. She is very nice in person and gave a 5-minute extension in class. Homework assignments and quizzes were challenging but were doable and graded with partial credit. Lectures were posted online, and I personally thought the content was very interesting.

Divya is easily one of the best professors I have had in my life. She is maybe even better than the others. She makes the material so incredibly easy to understand. The complex material she encountered in her own lectures are engaging and easy to follow. Definitely not too heavy on the book. Her TA is also very helpful and screwed some of the homework grades.

Brilliant class if you are a math major and want to learn about optimization. Dr Vernerey started with linear programming then went to convex optimization functions (which was a bit more difficult but good to learn about). Finished with applications. Annoying students with no minors and were confused. It was too hard but they should take this 4000 class!

Love her lectures (clearly organized). Weekly homework (long but easy) and exams are challenging. Class has a lot of majors so sometime the questions are tricky, sometimes professor was tricky. She's also very fair with students' other commitments like if we have a lot of exams, she'll move class or homework due date. Overall, better than that!
